Dear Parents

We are very pleased to know that you wish to have your child baptised.

The most important role of a parent is to seek what is truly best for their child in order to prepare them for the life that is ahead of them. Indeed asking for your son or daughter to be baptised is undeniably a sign of this. In seeking the Sacrament of Baptism you are asking for a wonderful gift to be given to your child — a gift of eternal life in Christ as the little one is freed from the Original Sin, adopted as a child of God and made a member of the family of the Church.

While the intention to seek baptism is indeed praiseworthy, it is important that this decision is not taken lightly. It brings with it great responsibilities. A baptism is not simply a one off event. It is rather a door through which your child enters onto the lifelong pilgrimage of faith. As parents of your child (with the help of the godparents), it will be your duty henceforth to do your best to pass the gift of the Christian faith to your child. By doing this, the graces your child receives through the Sacrament, may, with God's help, truly take root in their life. During the rite of baptism you will indeed make a public declaration that you are accepting this responsibility.

Finally, as with any milestone in life, a baptism of a child is not only a time to focus on the relationship between yourselves as a family, but also an opportunity to re-examine and renew our relationship with God. If you do not come to church regularly, or even if you have not been for many years, it is now the right time for you to return. You would be most welcome here at Sacred Heart and Holy Souls and we would be delighted for you to become part of our parish community. For more information on the times of Masses please visit our website.

If you wish to proceed with booking your child's baptism please fill in the form below. Please note that, in order for the baptism to take place on the date you have arranged, you will need to attend the pre-baptismal meeting as already arranged.

With kindest wishes.
